- Previous editions may be available for reference on the shelves, either bound or in pamphlet boxes – see the orange stack guides.
- We subscribe to thousands of journal titles, many of which are available online.

National Library of Wales

<http://www.llgc.org.uk/>

The screenshot shows the homepage of the National Library of Wales. At the top left is the logo, which consists of a red square with the white text 'LLGC' above 'NLW'. To the right of the logo, the text 'Llyfrgell Genedlaethol Cymru' and 'The National Library of Wales' is displayed, with 'Aberystwyth' below it. A dark navigation bar contains links: 'Home', 'About NLW', 'Visit Us', 'Collections', 'Catalogues', and 'Family History'. On the left side, there is a 'Catalogue Search' section with a text input field, a dropdown menu set to 'Anywhere', and a 'Search' button. Below this is a red 'Join The Library' button. Further down is a 'Quicklinks' section with links to 'Opening Times', 'Contact details', 'Becoming a Reader', 'Getting Here', and 'Jobs'. The main content area features a large photograph of a man in a blue sweater sitting at a wooden table on a balcony, working on a laptop. In the background, there is a body of water and a hill with a building on top. At the bottom of this image, the text 'THE NATIONAL LIBRARY OF WALES BLOG' is displayed, followed by the subtitle 'A blog about the work and collections of the National Library of Wales.'
